

Go-Live of ACE 3.0: New version of the e-sourcing Platform OCCON has been launched

On 20 August 2015 at noon the new version of the e-sourcing platform www.occon.net has successfully been launched.

Ludwigshafen, 20 August 2015. During the last months, OCCON has worked on the new version of their in-house programmed e-sourcing tool which now has successfully been launched as ACE 3.0. In order to enhance performance and flexibility on the platform, it has been completely reworked and is now entirely based on HTML 5. ACE 3.0 stands out with a more process-oriented layout. Purchasers and suppliers benefit from advanced possibilities of usage. For example, all admin-functions can be assessed directly via each selected ACE and the former loop via the administration platform NEXT2B has been eliminated. Moreover, users can switch between the ACEs, for example between SEA and ROAD without logging out and in again. In ACE 3.0, there is only one log-in area and the system has learned to differentiate between purchasers and suppliers automatically. Changing from the former platform ACE 2.0 to the new version, OCCON has passed a seamless and smooth transition: All individual log-in data were successfully integrated into the new ACE 3.0. Therefore, the efforts for both purchasers and carriers have been minimized.
