

Working Student for Product Development Study (Procurement & Logistics Consulting)

 Mannheim, Germany

 Working Student

 Consulting

 Temporary

From day one you will be part of the OCCON family. You will get involved in the challenging world of logistics consulting, and have the opportunity to work on exciting projects in an interdisciplinary environment.

Tasks

As a Consulting company in purchasing, OCCON supports global shippers in their procurement process. One part of our services is to support during the tender process with our inhouse developed e-tendering platform. Digitalisation is one of the major trends in procurement - but where does the journey go?

Will tender platforms still be used in 10 years? What comes next and how can companies and their purchasing organisations adapt to the next level?

The following tasks have to be handled during a 3 months internship à 20 hours per week:

- Researches about Procurement and its future/trends
- Development of a questionnaire
- Interviews with customers and potential customers
- Study and portfolio analysis of feedbacks
- Analysis of impact tools have on the achievement of savings
- Outlook / Consequences for OCCON and customers

Requirements

- Ongoing studies in Business Administration, International Management, Industrial Engineering, Engineering or Supply Chain
- Very good knowledge of Excel
- Fluent in English and German, spoken and written
- Independent, structured and quality-oriented way of working, high personal commitment, team player
- Efficient and resilient Analytical skills and high affinity for numbers are an advantage
- Strong in developing ideas

Benefits

- Gain working experience in a stable and fast-growing European company
 - Provide support to customers globally
 - Be part of a young experienced, highly motivated, and open-minded team
 - Future perspectives and opportunities to develop
 - Your Job will be placed in our new business innovation centre in Mannheim City
-

We are looking for intelligent young professionals who want to learn, improve and take over responsibilities. If you have worked for OCCON you can be sure you learned a lot for your future. Be someone in our OCCON family!

Simply send your application to recruiting@occon.de www.occon.de